PETERSBURG SAVINGS AND INSURANCE COM-PANY .- The people of our neighboring city are justly proud of the long and honorable career of this institution, founded by the noble D'Arcy Paul, who was for so many years its president. We publish to-day its last annual statement. More than half of its each capital is invested in United States registered bonds. It paid a good dividend to its stockholders last year, besides increasing its assets, showing sound management on the part of its officers. Messrs. Thomas M. Alfriend & Son, of this city, have represented the company here for the past twelve years, and our citizens who have suffered fire losses know how promptly and liberally they have been paid.

The acknowledged preeminence of Wilhelmj, and the universal pleasure be gave in his recent performance here, are facts which warrant the assertion that his next visit will be successful, and that he will receive even a more

A Novel Mode of Warfare .- Quite an exciting scene occurred on upper Bainbridge street Saturday afternoon, occasioned by a rencontre between two hackdrivers from Richmond. They were driving at a very rapid rate, and in turning the corner on Sixteenth street their backs collided and came near upsetting. Each driver thinking it was the other's fault, began to quarrel, and after resorting to that mode of settlement for a short while, concluded to go at it with their whips. For about fifteen minutes a cloud of dust could be seen issuing from the coats and pantaloons of the participants, much to the delight of several persons who were witnesses to this novel mode of warfare. After wearing their whips out upon each other and being nearly exhousted, an amicable adjustment was finally obtained.
